

API Waiver

Matte Powder Coat Finish Inconsistency

Matte powder coats may possess uncertain characteristics. The color variation can range from moderate to dramatic thus making it impossible to achieve a perfect color match between separate shapes and pieces (even when they are from the same batch and within the same shape).

When approving, you should expect and be prepared for a certain amount of color variation and understand that guarantees of finish, whether it is light or dark, can unfortunately not be made with regards to matte powders. Viewing conditions such as light source, viewing angle, and viewing distance may influence visual appearance of the finished coating.
