

API Waiver Powder Coat Color Inconsistency

“Powder Coat Color Option #1” is a very specific powder that possesses uncertain characteristics. The color variations range from moderate to dramatic thus making it impossible to achieve a perfect color match between separate shapes and pieces (even when they are from the same batch and within the same shape).

When approving, you should expect and be prepared for a certain amount of color variation and understand that guarantees of finish, whether it is light or dark, can unfortunately not be made for it all depends on the batch. Viewing conditions such as light source, viewing angle, and viewing distance may influence visual appearance of the finished coating.
